

Reading Guide

The spatio-temporal distance considered acceptable for intermodal trips reaches 70.59 kilometers, or 1 hour and 43 minutes. The public transport segment accounts for 82.64% of the spatial distance traveled but only 64.26% of the total time distance. Meanwhile, the two segments involving light individual mobility together represent 17.36% of the spatial distance and 35.74% of the time distance associated with the trip.